

Bio - Frank Savio (English)

Frank, who is known under many different pseudonyms, committed his first steps in electronic music by mixing 2 vinyls on grandfathers Turntables. At this particular time, his passion for electronic music has been growing. Now, almost 2 decades after his beginning, he earned a lot of national as well as international succeed. Since his latest project "Frank Savio", he allocated himself into a kind of driving Techno scene. Rolling bass drums and cutting bass lines are characterizing his productions, as well as his DJ sets. Anyway, through his years of experience as a producer and DJ in various genres of electronic music, he cannot really be classified into one Genre. With his art of music, he is taking his listeners into a journey through electronic variations which are telling an emotional story and are engrossing his audience every time. He tries to find a suitable answer for every situation ,without drifting away from the topic. Rather, Frank is now living his big dream and lives his passion for electronic music with every breath. And for the future? You can expect to hear some great surprises and news from Frank Savio!